Conflict Transformation and Peacebuilding: Moving From ...

Peacebuilding is an activity that aims to resolve injustice in nonviolent ways and to transform the cultural & structural conditions that generate deadly or destructive conflict. It revolves around developing constructive personal, group, and political relationships across ethnic, religious, class, national, and racial boundaries. This process includes violence prevention; conflict management ...

Peacebuilding - Wikipedia

Conflict transformation begins with a central goal: to build constructive change out of the energy created by conflict. By focusing this energy on the underlying relationships and social structures, constructive changes can be brought about. The key here is to move conflict away from destructive processes and toward constructive ones.

APPROACHES TO CONFLICT TRANSFORMATION

Conflict can often be painful and confusing with the pathways out not always being clear. Peacebuilding and conflict transformation processes provide a path toward peace and understanding. This is true not only for interpersonal relationships, but also in groups and within organizations. Depending on the length of time and breadth of the conflict, I can utilize one of the methodologies below to craft an intervention as unique as what you are working through.

Conflict transformation is a concept designed to reframe the way in which peacebuilding initiatives are discussed and pursued, particularly in contexts of ethnic conflict. Traditionally the emphasis has been on conflict resolution and conflict management methods, which focus on reducing or defusing outbreaks of hostility. Conflict transformation, in contrast, places a greater weight on addressing the underlying conditions which give rise to that conflict, preferably well in advance of any hostile
