Indiana was written by French Novelist, George Sand. She was a woman named Amantine Lucile Aurore Dupin and was a contemporary of Victor Hugo and Gustave Flaubert and quite well-known in France during her lifetime. Who knew? It is about a young woman who finds her voice while being married to a much older and violently jealous Monsieur Delmar.

Indiana, was the first published solo novel written by Amantine Lucile Aurore Dupin, whose adopted pen name starting with this book was George Sand. I had never read a book written by this author, so chose for my first, Indiana, the United State in which I was born. Indiana is the name of the story's heroine.

Indiana by George Sand - Goodreads

George Sand's Indiana dramatizes and explores a wide variety of concerns in the nineteenth century with a brilliance one rarely finds in a first novel: Arranged marriages, what it means to be a Creole, colonialism and plantation profiteering, slavery, the beginnings of the deterioration of Old Europe, and the rise of the businessman.

In 1832 she adopted a new pseudonym, George Sand, for Indiana, a novel in which Sandeau had had no part. That novel, which brought her immediate fame, is a passionate protest against the social conventions that bind a wife to her husband against her will and an apologia for a heroine who abandons an unhappy marriage and finds love.
